DETAILED ACTION

- 1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 13, 2003 has been entered.
- 2. Claims 9, 12, 13, and 15-20 have been cancelled.
- 3. Claims 11, 14, and 21-23 are pending.
- 4. In Paper No. 5, applicant elected with traverse phenolic acid, specifically cinnamic acid for species D.
- 5. Claims 11, 14, and 21-23 are examined on the merits with respect to the elected species.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 6. Claims 11, 14, and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 98/30228.

Applicant's claims are drawn to a composition comprising a therapeutically effective amount of cinnamic acid. Applicant specifies that the cinnamic acid is isolated from cranberries.

Application/Control Number: 09/835,121

Art Unit: 1654

WO '228 teaches a composition that comprises cinnamic acid (see claim 3). The composition is used for treating influenza; therefore, the cinnamic acid is administered in therapeutically effective amounts. The composition is formulated in many different forms including as a drink (see page 15, lines 26-28). The formulations are considered to meet the limitations of applicant's claims 21-23.

The reference does not specifically teach that the cinnamic acid is isolated from cranberry. However, cinnamic acid is considered to be the chemical compounds no matter the source. Therefore, the limitation of isolation from cranberry is not considered to make the composition of cinnamic acid taught by this reference patentably distinct from the claimed composition because the compositions are the same chemically.

7. No claims are allowed.
